Roger Williams

4th February 2007

Dear Mr. Lee,

With reference to the advertisement in the Daily Mail newspaper, 3rd February 2007, I wish to apply for the position of General Manager.

I have worked in the civil engineering sector since 1987 as a draughtsman/ CAD technician. My experiences have allowed me to work on many diverse and intense projects, from the Channel Tunnel Rail Link to Oxford University Library, which in turn has allowed me to subscribe to Forbes magazine and the Wall Street Journal Europe amongst others. I have always enjoyed working in this sector and I am eager to apply my years of practical experiences to a new challenge.

My main interests include travelling and sports. Past experiences include skiing in France and travelling to the U.S.A. My passion is in playing football, which I have done since the age of five (5) representing primary and secondary schools and local football clubs. Other sports include gridiron football and boxing.

Should you require any further information, please contact me at the above address. I look forward to your response.

Yours sincerely

R M Williams
